

Sunlight in the Dark

Little Eagle: Pollyanna Whittier saved Mr Pendleton, who broke his leg in Little Eagle Ledge in Pendleton Wood this afternoon. This brave eleven year old girl had spent the entire time with Mr Pendleton and had contacted a doctor to travel to the scene.

According to Miss Pollyanna, the dog was the one who saved the day and she had nothing to do with it.

“Mr Pendleton’s dog was barking and it led me to him. I am glad I was there to help him” said Pollyanna after the incident.

“When I met Mr Pendleton he was lying on the ground but I am glad he was still conscious. He told me to go to his house and get the contact number of Dr. Thomas Chilton. Nancy told me horrible tales about the house but I was surprised it was not as bad as she said it would be.” Pollyanna added.

Beldingsville residents were very surprised at this young girl’s action and behaviour. “I do not think Pollyanna was scared at all, in fact she acted very calmly and had done her best to help Mr. Pendleton. She just gets on with what she needs to do and helps others as much as possible” said Dr Thomas Chilton.

This is not the first time Pollyanna has tried to lighten everybody’s day in this little town. Her ‘glad game’ was very popular around Beldingsville as well.

Pollyanna explained the ‘glad game’ was one her father used to play with her. “It is very easy to play though sometimes it gets harder but that is what makes it even fun. All you have to do is find something to be glad about even if it is not at all wonderful.”

This bright child obviously does not realise what a difference she is making to this town. Pollyanna’s positive and sincere attitude towards life has impressed many townspeople.
